

TRE NOCI

VILLA GB

CONTRADA TRE NOCI · ALCAMO · SICILY

A contemporary villa in the foothills of Monte Bonifato.

On the lower slopes of the Monte Bonifato Nature Reserve, in contrada Tre Noci, a residential enclave of eight independent villas is taking shape — private in character, and free of shared service charges. Villa GB embodies its spirit: an architecture of contemporary language, conceived in full respect of its environment and landscape, where natural stone meets the detail of hand-painted Sicilian ceramics.

Every design choice favours the functionality and liveability of the spaces — the true jewels of the project — in a constant dialogue between inside and out, with views reaching all the way to the Gulf of Castellammare.

THE SETTING

Alcamo, between the mountain and the gulf.

Contrada Tre Noci lies in Alcamo, in western Sicily, just a few hundred metres from the town itself and at the foot of the Monte Bonifato Nature Reserve. Its hillside position brings a pleasantly ventilated climate and a splendid view embracing the whole Gulf of Castellammare.

The enclave is served by two entrances: the main one from via Per Camporeale 81 and a secondary one from via G. Scala. A setting that is private and yet remarkably well connected: two international airports, the sea, Segesta and the towns of art of the west coast are all within easy reach.

Authentic Sicily, twelve months a year.

Those who dream of moving to Sicily are looking for exactly this: a genuine town, alive all year round, where daily life follows the island's true rhythms. Alcamo is just that — an authentic community, far from the routes of overtourism, where newcomers soon become neighbours rather than guests.

At the same time, Alcamo offers all the services of a much larger city: a hospital, a multiplex cinema, schools, everyday markets and shops, the cafés of the historic centre, and a winemaking culture so deeply rooted that it carries its own appellation. Nothing is missing, and everything is close at hand.

And when the sea or great beauty calls, the most celebrated destinations of western Sicily — Castellammare del Golfo, Scopello, the Zingaro Nature Reserve, the temple of Segesta, San Vito Lo Capo — are minutes away by car: near enough to enjoy every week, far enough to leave Alcamo its peace.

WHY ALCAMO

A genuine community, no overtourism

Hospital and complete services

Multiplex cinema, schools, sport

A historic wine tradition (Alcamo DOC)

The gulf's beaches twenty minutes away

Scopello and Castellammare close by

Two international airports nearby

Direct access to the A29 motorway

WESTERN SICILY

Alcamo, in the heart of western Sicily: midway between the international airports of Palermo and Trapani.

The Tre Noci enclave: eight independent villas, with no shared service charges. The plots of villas HA and GB are highlighted.

Villa GB from above: the garden, the pool, the roof terrace-solarium with jacuzzi and sauna.

THE EXTERIORS

The garden, the water, the light.

A refined welcome continues as the gaze settles on the green lawn of the garden and on the designer pool, in direct continuity with the villa's living room. The garden surrounding the house leads to a broad stairway rising to the jacuzzi area, the roof terrace-solarium and the sauna.

Stone pathways and Sicilian majolica accompany the climb to the solarium.

From the terrace, the view runs free across the Alcamo countryside to the sea.

Water as a design material: the pool mirrors the stone and the sky.

Local stone, pale render and corten: a warm, timeless palette of materials.

The solarium level seen from above: pergola, seating and jacuzzi in a single domestic landscape.

The roof terrace-solarium: 128 square metres of open-air living, between pergolas and panoramic views.

Spaces for conviviality: outdoor dining, walkways and views over the greenery.

The lawn around the house, the sauna area and the garage front with its driveway.

The entrance front: discreet and protected, the villa settles perfectly into the slope.

The furnished ground-floor plan: an open living area, two bedrooms, study and services, with the pool extending the living room.

THE PROJECT

THE INTERIORS

A single level, no compromises.

The villa unfolds entirely on the ground floor, granting everyone — including those with reduced mobility — full enjoyment of its spaces; a lift connects it directly to the garage. At its heart lies the great kitchen-living room of over 50 m², where generous glazing and direct access to the pool lend a touch of class to everyday life.

The dining area and living room: natural light from two fronts and visual continuity with the outdoors.

The bespoke kitchen, with island and stone finishes, converses openly with the living room.

The single kitchen–living space: over fifty square metres of light.

The two bedrooms: generous proportions, fitted wardrobes and views over the greenery.

The three bathrooms, clad in marble and ceramic, and the laundry room: every function has its own dedicated space.

The study: fourteen square metres of quiet, for working or reading surrounded by one's books.

In the evening the villa comes alight: grazing light traces the volumes and the water.

Nocturnal scenes: architectural lighting exalts stone, greenery and mirrors of water.

THE PLOT

796 m² of land, in a privileged position.

Villa GB's plot (parcel 813) lies in the most secluded part of the enclave, on the southern edge of the site, its front open towards the valley. Access is granted by two entrances — the main one from via Per Camporeale 81, a secondary one from via G. Scala — and the gated character of the community makes the internal roads accessible, in practice, to residents alone.

THE OFFERING

For sale: the land, with an approved project.

To be clear: the sale concerns the land alone — 796 m² with the villa's building project already approved (a unitary building permit covering the whole enclave) — and not a completed villa, which these pages illustrate through project renderings. Herein lies the value of the offering: to buy today is to make the villa your own from its very foundations. Works — excavations, foundation slab and structural masonry — are already under way; the works completed are valued at negotiation, together with the land.

It is the ideal moment to enter the project: the buyer may still request any modification, personalising layout and finishes, and the usable area may be extended with glazed verandas (VePa), effectively enlarging the living room.

Nor is the buyer ever left alone: the owners can stand alongside you throughout the villa's construction, offering their knowledge of the project, of local contractors and of the territory — invaluable, above all, for those arriving from abroad.

Private negotiation — price on request.

A NOTE ON TRANSPARENCY

The officially approved project differs in part from the rendered images: (i) the access ramp to the ground floor has been removed and replaced by a staircase connecting the garage level to the villa's ground floor; (ii) a pergola of around 40 m² has been provided on the terrace to host the photovoltaic system.

Renderings are purely indicative and in any case consistent with the approved building project. Areas and dimensions derive from the project drawings and may vary slightly during execution.
